The risk is slight; and the Credit Union provides a number of protections such as: (1) Bond and Insurance coverages to protect Volunteers and the Credit Union in cases involving matters of liability; and (2) Professional Training on the "Duties of Credit Union Volunteers". The Credit Union may also enter into indemnification agreements. However, there are some circumstances under applicable laws where such coverages may not be sufficient or unavailable, such as if a Volunteer commits a criminal act. It is recommended that an applicant consult with such persons as he or she feels appropriate to further assess this consideration before committing to volunteer for the Credit Union. Further, to act as a volunteer you must be "bondable." You agree to provide all information required to by an approved bond or insurance company to determine "bondability/insurability"; and understand that you may not serve as a volunteer if such coverage is for any reason not offered, denied or cancelled.
